AAAE Executive Committee
Wednesday, December 6, 2000

Present: Mike Swan, Vern Luft, Jim Flowers, Carol Conroy, Jacque Deeds, Robert Martin, Gary Straquadine, Tim Murphy, Rosco Vaughn, Rob Terry

Swan called the meeting to order in the Sierra room of the Westin Hotel at 5:00 pm.

Minutes from 1999 meeting were reviewed. Murphy moved and Conroy seconded motion to accept. Motion passed.

Swan presented an overview of the conference. He also reviewed duties and responsibilities of the executive group for the conference.

Murphy presented the preliminary budget. Minor corrections were suggested and made.

AAAE travel policy was discussed. Murphy pointed out that, once again, the association was over-budget for expenses associated with travel to meetings for AAAE representatives to other organizations. Most organizations cover the expenses of AAAE members who participate in their meetings. However, other groups expect us to cover our own expenses. Swan pointed out that funds could be saved if the AAAE representative to these groups traveled a shorter distance. Therefore, the committee decided to put forth a motion that the representatives to the boards of the National Young Farmers and Postsecondary Agriculture Students be appointed by the AAAE president rather than being selected through an election. In this way an AAAE member from near the meeting sights for these two groups could provide representation to these groups at a lower cost to our association.

Future conference dates were also discussed. Luft described problems with the NAAE conference taking place prior to rather than in conjunction with the AAAE meeting. Concerns over the "splintering" of professional organizations for agricultural education were voiced.

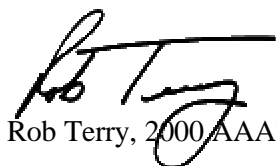

Luft shared the nominating committee report. The slate of nominees was to be presented at the opening session for AAAE.

Flowers pointed out problems related to gathering nominees for AAAE awards. For the second year in a row, no nomination applications were submitted for the Russell Guin Outstanding Agricultural Educator Award. The group agreed that the current system is not working. The committee determined that for the coming year, regional vice presidents would be responsible for assuring there is a nominee from their region for the Guin and Outstanding New Member awards.

Murphy reviewed his findings related to our status as a tax-exempt organization. He reviewed a plan where we would need to "establish" our group as a new organization in Texas. We would need file a tax return for 1999 and pay a fee to receive exempt status with the IRS.

The meeting was adjourned at 6:40 pm.

Respectfully submitted by,

Rob Terry, 2000 AAAE Secretary

AAAE Opening Session
Thursday, December 7, 2000

Meeting called to order at 8:30 a.m. in room 2 of the San Diego Convention Center in Orlando Florida by Michael Swan, President of AAAE.

Rob Terry led the introduction of guests including graduate students; and new faculty.

Jim Flowers, President-Elect, introduced the Distinguished Lecturer, Dr. James E. Christiansen.

Dr. Christiansen's lecture was entitled, "... Views from the Corner Office." Christiansen discussed the need for a global approach to agricultural education.

Swan opened the floor for new business.

Terry moved that the AAAE president should appoint a representative to the Board of Directors for the Postsecondary Agriculture Students association and a representative to the National Young Farmers association. Deeds seconded. Motion passed.

AAAE Business Meeting
Saturday, December 9, 2000

Meeting called to order at 10:15 a.m. by Mike Swan, AAAE President, in room 9 of the San Diego Convention Center San Diego, California.

Swan called for the Auditing Committee Report. Mark Balschweid reported that few discrepancies were found in the Treasurer's report. The committee suggested that funds for the research conference and the Kahler Dissertation Award be handled through the AAAE organization and commended Tim Murphy, AAAE Treasurer, for a job well done.

Swan called for old business. There was none.

Swan called for new business.

Murphy commented about current and future budget problems. The balance in the annual budget has been supplemented by taking funds from our "savings" account.

Jeff Moss moved and Jerry Peters seconded a motion that dues for active membership in AAAE be raised to $80.00. Motion passed.

Rob Terry moved and Allen Talbert seconded a motion to raise student membership dues for AAAE to $25.00. Motion passed.

Peters moved and Bryan Garton seconded a motion to schedule NAERC over two days during the regular conference period for the annual ACTE meeting.

Susan Camp moved and Curtis White seconded a motion to refer the main motion to the AAAE executive committee for further study. Motion failed.

Jeff Moss moved and Gary Briers seconded a motion to amend the main motion by adding the words "recommend that the AAAE executive committee and NAERC Chair consider ways". Amendment passed.

Main motion as amended passed.

Bill Camp moved and Dennis Scanlon seconded a motion to have joint registration for NAERC and AAAE dues as an option on the registration form for NAERC. Motion passed.

The AGED professional organization restructuring issue was brought to the assembly by Swan. He asked members to provide feedback concerning continued discussions of a "joint organization" made up of the memberships of NAAE, NASAE and AAAE. After much discussion, it Swan was encouraged to continue the discussions while looking out for the interests of the professional diversity represented by AAAE members.

Swan installed Jim Flowers as President of AAAE.

Flowers recognized Swan for a job well done and presented him with a plaque.

Flowers remarks expressed his appreciation for the opportunity to serve AAAE. He issued a change for the group to find ways to improve the organization and asked for the support of the membership in these times of change.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:50 a.m.

President's Report
American Association for Agricultural Education
2001

I appreciate the opportunity to serve the American Association for Agricultural Education as your 2001 President. 2001 has been a good year for AAAE with a strong team of officers and committee chairs and members who have carried out their responsibilities well. We could not have asked for a better working relationship within the Executive Committee. I have enjoyed representing AAAE on the National Council for Agricultural Education and as a member of the planning committee for the National FFA Inservice.

National Council for Agricultural Education Report:

The Council is in the best financial condition in years, thanks to the hard work of Dr. Rosco Vaughn, former Executive Director, and his staff, along with the cooperation of other agricultural education organizations and the National FFA. There are still challenges facing the Council from a financial standpoint, and a meeting of the Council Finance Committee is scheduled for December 7-8 to develop a Business Management Plan.

The Council did face the challenge of selecting a new Executive Director this year with the resignation of Dr. Vaughn. A national search was conducted with the Executive Committee of the Council serving as the screening committee. Three finalists were interviewed by the full Council Board, and Mark Leitman was selected as the new Executive Director. Previously, Mark had served as a Project Director for the Council and was responsible for Marketing and for the Professional Growth Series materials. As President of AAAE, I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge the tremendous contributions to the profession made by Dr. Vaughn during his years as Executive Director of the National Council for Agricultural Education. His leadership is largely responsible for the Council's improvement in their financial status.

The fall meeting of the Council focused on strategic planning. Unfortunately, due to a death in the family, I was unable to attend the fall meeting. Marshall Stewart was elected Chair of the Council for 2002, and I was elected Treasurer.

National FFA Inservice:

The 2001 Presidents of AAAE, NAAE, and NASAE served on the planning committee for the National Agricultural Education Summit and FFA Inservice in February. Obviously, much of the planning occurred in 2000, but each of the presidents hosted a session of the National Agricultural Education Summit. The Summit was focused around the goals of the 2020 initiative, and I had the opportunity to host the session on Involving Partners in Agricultural Education Programs. In addition, I was asked to make a presentation to the participants on the national teacher shortage.

Issues Facing AAAE:

The issue of AAAE regions was surfaced at the AAAE Eastern Region Conference. Attendance at the Eastern Region Conference has dropped significantly, as has faculty positions within the region. The Constitution Committee has been asked to review this situation and submit a proposal for realignment of regions to the membership. There are also some editorial revisions to the constitution that need to be addressed.

American Association for Agricultural Education
Central Region
Vice President's Report

- The Central Region of AAAE met for its annual meeting in St. Louis, Missouri on February 23rd & 24th, 2001 at the Adam's Mark Hotel.
- The first day was focused on the Research Meeting. There were 18 papers presented. Twenty-six papers were submitted for consideration. The Ohio State University was the host for the Research Conference. N.L. (Mac) McCaslin spoke at the Friday luncheon. Joe Gleim was Research Conference chairperson. Kansas State University is the Host State in 2002. It was decided to invite the Eastern Region to join us for the 2002 conference.
- The second day focused on a panel discussion concerning the Supervision of Teaching & Field Experience led by Greg Miller, Bryan Garton and Richard Joerger.
- Poster and Round Table Discussions rounded out the conference.
- The Business Meeting concluded with the election (all effective January 2002) of Bryan Garton as Vice-President, Jeff Moss as Alternative Vice-President, and Randy Andreasen as Treasurer. Committees reported on their work and new members were elected as follows: Joe Gleim, Communications; Andy Baker, Professional Development; Lloyd Bell, Program Improvement; and Neil Knobloch, Research.
- The 2002 conference will be in St. Louis, Missouri, on February 21-23, 2002. Steve Harbstreit will chair the Research Meeting. Bob Martin will develop the seminar program and business meeting.

Research Committee: Dr. Dennis Scanlon reported that an evaluation form for qualitative research reports is being developed. 108 proposals were submitted last year with a 44% acceptance rate. It was also reported that Dr. Robert Warmbrod will be conducting a Research Pre-session at the 2001 NAREC (Attachment C).

NEW BUSINESS

There was a general discussion regarding the need for regional designations within AAAE. The Eastern Region appears to be the region currently experiencing the most difficulty due to reductions in the number of programs. Regions were recognized as important in giving young members an opportunity to get involved in professional activities and that regional expectations may need to change.

Blannie Bowen moved that the Eastern Region AAAE request that AAAE look at Regional Alignment. Seconded by Dennis Scanlon. Motion carried.

GENERAL DISCUSSION

Timing of the Eastern Region Meeting was discussed. It was the general consensus that the 3rd week of June would be the optimum period for such a meeting. The Regional V.P. will work closely with the teachers and state supervisors in arriving at the date.

Dennis Eaton has joined the Agricultural Education Faculty at Cornell University, replacing Carol Convoy.

Dr. Scanlon reported on the 5 STAR Consortium activities, which included a very successful consortium wide Student Teacher Retreat held at Smyrna, Delaware. A Consortium sponsored Beginning Teacher Conference is also being planned.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

Dennis Eaton replaces Bill Thuemmel on the Communications Committee.

Tracy Hoover replaces Al Mannebach on the Professional Development Committee.

Rama Radakrishna replaces David Howell on the Research Committee.

Patreese Ingram was reappointed to the JAE Editing Review Board (Attachment D).

EASTERN REGIONAL MEETING ROTATION

2002 – NY; 2003 – VA; 2004 – CT/six states; 2005 – WV; 2006 – PA; 2007 – NJ/DE/MD.

2001 AAAE Southern Region Vice President's Report
Ed Osborne, University of Florida
December 15, 2001
New Orleans, LA

The 2001 Southern Region AAAE Conference was held January 27-30 in Ft. Worth, Texas in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Agricultural Scientists (SAAS). University faculty representing most college of agriculture academic units in the southern region of the US attend the annual SAAS Conference. The Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M University did a super job in hosting the Ag Ed regional conference, with approximately 80 faculty and graduate students attending. Highlights of the program included the presentation of 27 research papers and 19 posters, four professional development sessions on research strategies, and two special sessions for graduate students. A very enjoyable pork rib dinner was held at the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Museum. Award recipients included Tracy Hoover, Distinguished Teaching Award; Jacqui Lockaby, Outstanding New Agricultural Educator; and Gary Briers, Outstanding Agricultural Educator.

During the business meeting the group approved a motion to dissolve the Southern Agricultural Education Conference Board of Directors. This Board was originally composed of university faculty and state staff. However, state staff no longer attend the conference, and participants now only include university faculty and graduate students. With this action the Secretary of the Ag Ed section of SAAS now serves as the conference secretary each year.

The following people were elected to leadership positions in AAAE representing the Southern Region:

- Research Committee – Kathleen Kelsey
- Professional Development Committee – Lance Keith and Kim Dooley
- Program Improvement Committee – Beth Wilson
- Communications Committee – Jacqui Lockaby
- FFA Board of Directors – David Lawver
- JAE Editing-Managing Board – Rick Rudd

The University of Florida agreed to host the 2002 regional conference in Orlando (February 2-5), with Ed Osborne and Rick Rudd coordinating. Members supported the idea of a joint session with Rural Sociology in 2002. Mississippi State (Walter Taylor and Kirk Swortzel coordinating) will host the 2003 regional conference in Mobile, Alabama, and Western Kentucky University (David Coffey coordinating) will host the 2004 conference in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The Southern Region AAAE Conference will continue to be held in conjunction with the SAAS Conference.

Respectfully submitted,
Ed Osborne
2000-02 AAAE Southern Region Vice President

Western Regional Report - 2001
Gary S. Straquadine, Western Region Vice President
Utah State University

Introduction and Current Events

The Western Region of the AAAE is comprised of 15 western states, including Oklahoma and Texas, which are shared among both the western and southern region. By last count there were 27 institutions with agricultural education teacher preparation programs in one form or another. The western region is sometimes noted for geographic and philosophical open space complimented by respectful independence. Cooperative collegiality is a continued landmark of the western region.

Each spring the western region conducts an agricultural education teacher supply and demand survey. While this is not unique to the region, the summary statistics continue to indicate a trend toward more demand than supply. Need continues to outstrip supply. In general, teacher attrition rates are similar to the rest of the nation, approximately 10%. Growth comes from the initiation of new programs, primarily in the urban and suburban centers, and the addition of a second teacher to an expanding program. Ag-science and agricultural literacy programs appear to be influencing program expansion.

Past Conference

The Western Region holds a regional meeting each spring. The 2001 conference was hosted by the California teacher educators and held in Carmel. The conference was held in conjunction with the western region of the NAAE (Region I) with some NASAE members in attendance. Approximately 50 AAAE members, graduate students, and guests participated in conference activities. The research meeting was organized and hosted by Bill Kellogg, Cal Poly State University - San Luis Obispo and included 18 paper presentations. USU faculty member Jill Webster organized the poster session where 12 presentations were made.

Next Conference

The next Western Region AAAE Conference is scheduled for April 24 – 27, 2002 in Spokane, Washington. This year's meeting will again be held in conjunction with the western region agricultural education teachers meeting (NAAE Region I) with over-all organization by the Mike Swan, Washington State University, and the Washington Agricultural Teachers Association. Mike Swan has sent to all western region AAAE members the Call for Papers in early November via e-mail (western region listserv). You should have information regarding the Call for Papers. If not, contact Mike or myself.

Approval of the National Standards for Agricultural Teacher Education Programs

Almost three years ago, depending on when you are reading this, the AAAE Program Improvement Committee took a bold step. They authorized Carol Conroy, teacher educator in agricultural education, to lead the development of National Standards for Agricultural Teacher Education Programs. Representation of this committee includes individuals from AAAE, NAAE, NASAE, USDA, USDE, National FFA, AITC, and The Council. Specifically, there are nine AAAE members on the development team. Reflective of Western Region AAAE leadership, three and one-half members on the development team are from the western region. These members are: Robert Torres, NMSU, Greg Thompson, Oregon State, Gary Straquadine, USU, and James Leising, Oklahoma State. We count Dr. Leising as having representation for both the western and southern regions of AAAE, hence the three and one-half calculation. The AAAE profession looks forward to approval and field-testing of the proposed national standards.

Historians Report – 2001

The primary job of the Historian is to maintain the archives of the association. Accordingly, I maintain two full filing cabinets of materials related to the American Association for Agricultural Education (and previously the American Association of Teacher Educators in Agriculture). The archives contain minutes, financial records, membership rosters, committee reports and a variety of other materials. I will be glad to retrieve or house any association related documents.

When the FFA moved to Indianapolis I was asked to help “clean out” the attic. Numerous boxes of materials (enough to fill up a Suburban) that may or may not contain historical documents related to agricultural education and the FFA are contained in these boxes. I have not yet cataloged these materials.

I also answer historical inquiries from members of the profession and others in agricultural education. This year the majority of the inquiries I have responded to were about Creeds – both the FFA creed and the Ag Teachers Creed. More recent inquiries were about E. M. Tiffany; who was he and what did he do. I have also responded to several inquiries regarding the New Farmers of America.

I have also worked with the FFA in preparing the trivia questions that appear on the various screens prior to the sessions at the National FFA Convention. I have also been in contact with FFA officials discussing possible activities to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the FFA.

My final activity of a historical nature this year was consulting with Patricia Hartwell of Harwell Media on the production of a documentary about agricultural education.

AAAE Professional Development Committee
New Orleans Convention Center
December 14, 2001

Present: G. Thompson (Vice Chair), E. Osborne, G. Briers, A. Baker, V. Luft, T. Hoover.

Graduate Students: J. Ricketts, K. Grage, B. Myers, L. Moore

Minutes of the December 2000 Professional Development Committee were read and approved.

Sub-Committee Reports

Membership and Recruitment. G. Briers reported that membership is not at its fullest potential within the regions. The committee discussed a possible joint membership with other professional organizations that would entice our peers to join AAAE. Those individuals whose primary professional discipline is not AAAE could receive a reduction in dues as an incentive to join AAAE. This offer would be reciprocated by other professional organizations to allow AAAE members the opportunity to join additional organizations. E. Osborne will check on this opportunity with Rural Sociology and Agricultural Communicators in Education.

The committee recommended Tim Murphy send each regional vice president and the regional AAAE professional development representative a list of institutions, dues-paying members, and copies of the dues form to send to potential AAAE members in their respective region. Motion passed.

Nominations. The committee recommended the past AAAE president (Jim Flowers) send a call for 2002 nominations to regional vice presidents prior to their regional meetings. This would allow discussion and recommendation of individuals for the openings. T. Hoover will share this recommendation with J. Flowers.

Awards. The Professional Development committee recommended that the eligibility criteria for the AAAE awards be reviewed for clarity. Motion passed. The awards sub-committee will share their findings at the 2002 Professional Development Committee meeting.

Old Business

Pre-session/2001 NAERC. The research pre-session presented by R. Warmbrod was well received and the evaluations were overwhelmingly positive. There were many recommendations for a qualitative pre-session in 2002. G. Thompson will forward the names of individuals (presenters) who were recommended for this session. In addition to the qualitative pre-session the Professional Development Committee recommended the AAAE president(G. Briers) include several breakout sessions/seminars on teaching and learning, nonformal education and leadership in the AAAE/Ag Ed division program. Motion passed.

Code of Ethics Recommendation. The Professional Development Committee recommended the AAAE Executive committee consider the development of a code of ethics for the profession. Motion passed.

Minutes of 2000 AAAE Communications Committee
December 8, 2000

Committee members present: N.L. McCaslin, Mark Balschweid, Tony Brannon (for Gary Jackson), Jim Dyer, Susan Camp, Bill Thuemmel, and Van Shelhamer.

1. Committee membership terms were reviewed and updated.
2. The following year's activities were reviewed:
 - a. Jim Dyer reported on AAAE Directory of University Faculty in Agricultural Education and AAAE Website. It was noted that five institutions that were previously listed now have no faculty in Ag Ed this year and have been dropped from the directory. It was also reported that the organization has purchased the URL "AAAEonline.org" for a five-year period beginning Sept. 13, 2000, and is listed on over 5,000 search engines at a total cost of $214.95.
 - b. N.L. McCaslin reported on the Annual Salary Survey. He reported that in addition to the usual information, next year's survey will include years of service and starting salary figures.
3. The motion was made by Jim Dyer and seconded by Susan Camp to ask Bill Camp to continue with the Supply and Demand Study on an annual basis. The motion carried.
 - a. The motion was made by Tony Brannon and seconded by Susan Camp to request funding from AAAE for the Supply and Demand study in the amount of $500 to conduct the Supply and Demand Study.
 - b. The motion was made by Van Shelhamer and seconded by N.L. McCaslin to amend the motion by adding that AAAE seek sponsorship to fund that study. The amendment carried unanimously.
 - c. The motion was made and seconded to amend the original motion by changing the amount from $500 to $1,000. The motion to amend carried unanimously. The original motion as amended which states that the Communications Committee request $1,000 from the AAAE to conduct an Annual Supply and Demand Study, and that the AAAE should seek sponsorship to fund the study carried unanimously. (NOTE: This is no budgetary item to AAAE)
4. Discussion was held on a recommendation by the Professional Development Committee to change the title of the AAAE Directory of University Faculty in Agricultural Education to more fully describe the diverse faculty groups affiliated with programs of agricultural education (e.g., education, extension, leadership, communication). After discussion of the feasibility accurately identifying what groups of faculty should be represented, no additional action was taken. Instead, it was offered that department chairs in each of the institutions should identify faculty that should be classified as "university faculty in agricultural education" (little "a," little "e").
5. Discussion was held on a recommendation by the Professional Development Committee to list faculty member's primary area(s) of expertise (e.g., education, communication, extension, leadership, etc.) in the AAAE Directory of University Faculty in Ag Ed. The recommendation was adopted by consensus.
6. Tony Brannon was elected to serve as Vice Chair for the 2001 academic year.
7. The individuals listed by the activity were asked to coordinate the following activities:
 - a. Directory of University Faculty in Agricultural Education – Jim Dyer, editor
 - b. Annual Salary Survey – N.L. McCaslin, editor
 - c. Supply and Demand Study (university) – David Lawver, editor
 - d. Supply and Demand Study (agriculture teachers) – Bill Camp, editor
 - e. AAAE Website – University of Missouri - Jim Dyer, host
 - f. AAAE Listserve (faculty) – Purdue University - Alan Talbert host
 - g. AAAE Listserve (graduate student) – University of Missouri GSA, host

AAAE Research Committee Report
Friday, December 08, 2000

The research committee meeting met on Friday, December 08, 2000 from 1:15 until 3:00 p.m. in The Westin Horton Plaza, San Diego, California.

Members Present:

Greg Miller (Central Region), Wes Budke (Central Region), Richard Joerger (Central Region) David Howell (Eastern Region), Harry Boone (Eastern Region), Dennis Scanlon, (Eastern Region) Robert Torres (Western Region), Michael Swan (Western Region), Matt Baker (Southern), Glen Shinn (Southern Region), Rick Rudd (Southern Region)

Members Absent:

John Hillison (Southern Region), Jack Elliott (Western Region), Bryan Garton (Central Region),

Guests:

Kathleen Kelsey, Cindy Akers, Jacque Lockaby, Jon Hogg,

Greg Miller, Chair, called the meeting to order and presented an agenda.

Matt Baker moved acceptance of the minutes from December 12, 1999 meeting. Rick Rudd seconded the motion. Motion passed.

Subcommittee Reports:

A. Dissemination of Research:

No report was given.

B. Research Conference Coordination - Matt Baker, Subcommittee Chair

Matt Baker reported that the selection of paper process went smoothly. Scoring was facilitated by a large group of volunteers that responded in a timely and helpful manner. Award recipients were announced at the AAAE Awards reception.

Greg Miller presented a report of the 2000 NAERC (see attached report). He reported everything went smoothly and that it was a financial break even event. Motion made by Richard Joerger and seconded by Matt Baker to approve as reported. Glen Shinn made a resolution to congratulate Greg Miller on a fine job of creating and implementing an excellent conference. Motion passed unanimously.

Suggestions for enhancing the structure of the research conference included: (a) integrate sessions between research presentations that allow researchers with similar interests to dialogue and network, and: (b) professional improvement sessions between research presentation sessions.

C. Collaboration/External Communications : Glen Shinn, Subcommittee Chair

Glen Shinn reported on the NCA-24 meetings. He indicated that biotechnology topic was a recommended topic of emphasis and community development was approved as topics of focus for agricultural education. ESCOP research initiatives include food safety, biotechnology, and community development. Further details are available on the ESCOP website. It was moved by Richard Joerger and seconded by Rick Rudd to accept the report. Motion passed.

Unfinished Business

No report

New Business

Nominations for the 2002 NAERC conference chair(s) in Las Vegas, Nevada were presented. It was agreed upon that persons be sought out and identified as soon as possible and secure a vote via email for NAERC Chair(s).

Michael Swan (Washington State University) nominated himself and Marty Frick (Montana State University) to serve as the 2002 NAERC conference Co-chairs. An electronic vote from the research committee was secured on the nomination. Motion passed.

In light of recent discussion over qualitative research via the AAAE listserv, the NAERC paper selection process was discussed. It was moved by Rick Rudd and seconded by Richard Joerger that a committee review the current paper selection criteria form in effort to develop a form more suitable for evaluating qualitative papers. It was further suggested that the incoming chair establish the committee to include persons with quantitative research skills and persons with qualitative research skills. The form is to be presented for discussion at the 2001 AAAE research committee meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Consultant Report from the National FFA Board of Directors

by Dave Howell, Eastern Region, Wade Miller, Central Region and Jack Elliot, Western Region

In the past year much has been done to make greater use of the AAAE consultants to the National FFA Board of Directors. Thanks to the efforts begun by Jim Connors and Rob Terry we now have a research committee which includes the AAAE consultants. Money is also being ear marked to fund graduate research related to aspects of the FFA. The research committee will assist in evaluating the research proposals to select those to be funded. The AAAE consultants have also been asked to provide copies of research related to the FFA from both the regional and National level each year

The National FFA has determined that it will not provide the number of international travel opportunities as it has in the past. Having participated in the trip to Costa Rica this past summer Dave Howell is of the opinion that because the students were able to travel and participate in another culture plus share ideas with members across the US we need to find a way to continue such activities. Perhaps a university which is already involved with student exchange programs could carry the ball.

The search is on to identify the best location for future National FFA conventions. Because of the resent experience in relocating from Kansas City a very methodical procedure has been identified to review all aspects which are of concern to the National organization and to the membership. The result should be a location that better meets our changing needs.

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION (AAAE)

by

B. Allen Talbert, AAAE Representative to the Board of Directors
NATIONAL YOUNG FARMERS EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

It has been my privilege to represent the AAAE on the Board of Directors and to participate in the following activities: 1) Spring Board Meeting in Nashville, Tennessee, March 2-4, 2001, I was unable to attend due to a Purdue University commitment; 2) Summer Business Meeting/Board Meeting in San Antonio, Texas, July 5-8, 2001; 3) NYFEA National Institute in Falls Church, Virginia, I was unable to attend due to conflict with teaching; 4) monthly Board of Directors conference calls.

Highlights of NYFEA for 2001:

- The Members and Mentors Award (MAMA) program was implemented in 2001. The Presidents Council has provided seed money and states represented on the Board of Directors raised $1,000 per state. This program has raised NYFEA membership to more than 5,000 members.
- NYFEA is on-line at www.nyfea.org. The page has material for broad audiences, but also has sections reserved for use by paid national NYFEA members.
- The prescription drug/vision plan, introduced two years ago, has been successful in increasing NYFEA membership and providing tangible benefits to NYFEA members. An Ag Leaders Club benefits plan is an additional $100 and includes numerous other benefits such as dental.
- The National Advisor/Association Subscription program (NAAS) is new. It is designed to start local chapters and provide them with the tools to be successful in leadership training, organized community service activities and career development learning.

The NYFEA has a worthwhile mission and strong leadership that give it the potential to be a growing organization. After serving one term on the Board, I believe that the organization needs encouragement and support from the rest of the Agricultural Education family. I encourage each of you to consider including this adult agricultural education leadership component in your research agenda and teacher preparation programs of study. In addition, I encourage you to work toward either developing new or strengthening existing state and local Young Farmer programs in your states.

Thank you for funding my participation on the NYFEA Board. Be assured that AAAE's representation is appreciated and opinions are valued. Please share with me suggestions, comments, or questions to carry forward to the Board. –B. Allen Talbert

National FFA Career Development Events Advisory Board Report
A Report to the Membership Of
The American Association for Agricultural Education

The membership of National FFA Career Development Events Advisory Board is comprised of individuals representing teacher education, state supervision, secondary teaching, the FFA organization, and staff members from the National FFA Center. AAAE is represented by Dr. Lance Keith, Assistant Professor at West Texas A&M University and Dr. John P. Mundt, Professor at the University of Idaho.

The purpose of the committee is to provide input to the FFA Staff and Superintendents who provide the leadership for the FFA Career Development Events, Chapter, and Career Success Programs. Specifically the Advisory Board:

1. Reviews recommendations from the CDE Superintendents and makes recommendations to the National FFA Board of Directors.
2. Reviews the CDE Superintendents Reports.
3. Reviews the recommendation from the National FFA Delegate Committees of Chapter Activities and Career Success.
4. Reviews written appeals from advisors (coaches) regarding career development events and the chapter and career success program.

The CDE Advisory Board meets two times per year. Meetings are scheduled at the conclusion of the National FFA Convention and during the month of January. There was not a scheduled meeting of the Advisory Board during January of 2001. The Advisory Board reviewed an appeal from an advisor regarding a rule interpretation on eligibility of an agri-science fair entry via phone conference in November of 2001. The board upheld the decision of the judges. The board met on January 11-12, 2002 at the National FFA Center. Items one 1-3 above were reviewed during the meeting and suggestions and input were provided to the CDE Superintendents, the National FFA Staff, and the National FFA Board of Directors.

Respectfully submitted,

John P. Mundt
University of Idaho

Lance Keith
West Texas A&M University

The National FFA Alumni Report
2000-2001

James Knight
AAAE Representative

The National FFA Alumni Association has just concluded its 29th annual convention. The highlights from the convention are as follows:

Cindy Ettestad of Oregon elected President
Pam Jumper of Arkansas elected Vice President

The following individuals were recognized as Outstanding Achievement Award winners:

Linda Story, Kentucky
Shirley Carte, Florida
Monte Ladner, Mississippi

Outstanding Alumni Affiliate:
Denmark, Wisconsin

National Auction grossed over $103,000

During 1999 -2000 year the National Alumni provide support to the following:

Washington Leadership Conference	$37,130
College Scholarships	$5,000
National Council for Agricultural Education	$5,000
Post Secondary Agriculture Students	$750
Chapter Grant	$20,000
Rebate to State Alumni Associations	$10,385

New incentives that were added this year include:
$500 for the outstanding new/reactivated affiliate
$500 for the outstanding Ag Ed instructor

Currently there are:
39,000 Alumni members
1,100 Alumni Affiliates

The current council is now in the process of searching for a new Executive Director for the Council. That person will also have a major role in working with a new National FFA initiative related to volunteerism.

Journal of Agricultural Education

Editing-Managing Board
December 12, 2001

The Editing-Managing Board of the Journal of Agricultural Education met on December 12, 2001. All members of the Board were present for the meeting.

The Editor, Business Manager, and Electronic Coordinator of the Journal of Agricultural Education presented reports to the board. Highlights of these reports included:

- Volume 42 consisted of thirty manuscripts, a decline of 15 from 2000
- The editor implemented a policy of sending “page proofs” to the authors electronically
- The cost for Volume 42 was $11, 273.48 (This figure may increase slightly because of postage)
- $8,975.85 in income was received to offset publication cost of the Journal.
- The Electronic Coordinator is adding one issue per year to the Internet in addition to immediate past issue.
- The Business Manager reported that he was having problems getting the issue name and date printed on the spine. This was due to the number of pages in the issues.

This year the editor will pilot test a process of sending articles to reviewers electronically.

The JAE Board voted to increase International subscriptions to $130 and Domestic subscriptions (Library) to $105. This is an increase of $10.

The JAE Board recommended a $12,500 budget for 2002. This includes raising the honorarium for the Editor and Business Manager from $200 to $500 per year.

The JAE Board adopted the following policy:

The Journal of Agricultural Education will refuse to publish any article that is under consideration or has been published in another journal. The editor will develop a form for verifying this information at the time the article is submitted to the Journal.

Brenda Seevers, Chair, Outstanding Article Selection Committee announced that the Committee’s work was complete and the winners would be announced at the Awards reception.

The JAE Board officers for 2002 are:

Robert Birkenholtz, Chair
Rick Rudd, Secretary
Harry Boone, Chair, Outstanding Article Selection Committee

Two additional items were discussed, however no action was taken by the Editing-Managing Board on either item.

- A policy where the top papers at NAERC and/or the Regional Research Conferences would automatically be published in JAE.
- Possible move to a total electronic journal. It was reported that the membership had rejected the idea a few years ago. The JAE Board was interested in knowing if opinion had changed.

Respectfully submitted,
Harry Boone, Chair JAE Editing-Managing Board

PAS has made some dramatic changes in the last year. The Executive Director of several years resigned after receiving additional responsibilities at her institution of employment. Subsequently, the PAS Board began deliberations w/the National FFA Board to establish a joint position for Collegiate students. An agreement has been reached and the position is now housed at the National FFA Center. This is the first year of existence so we shall see how things progress. The National PAS conference will be held March 11-17, 2002 in Mankato, MN. We are expecting increases in numbers due to the change in the executive director position being housed at the National FFA Center.

As the AAAE representative on the PAS Board, my duties remain the same as the coordinator of the college bowl. The 2001 bowl was successful and we are preparing for 2002.

PAS has truly been an eye opener for me. I believe it to be important that AAAE remain in support of the PAS mission.

CAST Report to AAAE, 2001
Council for Agricultural Science and Technology

Gary J. Wingenbach, AAAE Representative to CAST

The mission of the Council for Agricultural Science and Technology CAST is to identify food and fiber, environmental, and other agricultural issues and to interpret related scientific research information for legislators, regulators, and the media for use in public policy decision making. CAST was organized in 1972 as a nonprofit organization to provide a scientific voice for agriculture. Today, CAST is composed of 37 scientific and technical societies and many individual, student, company, nonprofit, and associate society members. The 37 CAST societies represent more than 173,000 agricultural, environmental, and natural resource scientists. Below is a summary of activities for 2001. Further details are available on the Web sites: www.cast-science.org and www.societies.org, or by signing up for the CAST news email list at cast@cast-science.org, or by contacting the CAST office at 515 292-2125.

NEW PERSONNEL

- ❑ Teresa A. Gruber, Ph.D., J.D., was named executive vice president of CAST, effective April 1, 2001. Dr. Richard E. Stuckey, executive vice president since 1992, retired at the end of June.
- ❑ Linda M. Chimenti, M.A.L.S., is the managing scientific editor of CAST. She replaces Dr. Kay Niyo, who retired in December 2000 after 13 years on the CAST staff.
- ❑ Steve Halloran has been named membership director for CAST. He replaces Candi Kelly, previous development director.
- ❑ Dr. L. J. (Kelvin) Koong, representative of the American Society of Animal Science on the CAST Board of Directors and associate Dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Oregon State University, has been elected president-elect for CAST. Dr. Koong's term begins at the end of the CAST board meeting in September 2001.
- ❑ Dr. Thomas O. Holtzer, professor and head of the Department of Bioagricultural Sciences and Pest Management at Colorado State University, has been elected Individual Representative to the CAST Board of Directors.
- ❑ CAST now has a Washington, DC address as well as the home office in Iowa. The Washington office is the base for executive vice president Teresa Gruber and Cindy Richard. (CAST, 505 Capitol Court, NE, Suite 200, Washington, D.C. 20002; ph. 202-675-8333, fax 202-675-8334).

NEW MEMBER SOCIETY

- ❑ The Society for In Vitro Biology (SIVB) was approved as a society member of CAST. SIVB was founded in 1946 as the Tissue Culture Association to foster exchange of knowledge of in vitro biology of cells, tissues, and organs from both plant and animals (including humans). The focus is on biological research, development, and applications of significance to science and society. Dr. Maud Hinchee is SIVB's representative to the CAST board.

BIOTECHNOLOGY COMMUNICATIONS INITIATIVE

- ❑ CAST serves as a biotechnology-specific information resource to the public and the media.
- ❑ A CAST board-approved CAST Biotechnology Advisory Committee (CBAC) has been formed to provide independent oversight of the CAST Biotechnology Outreach Program. The CBAC first met in March 2001; the resulting recommendations are available in the summer edition of NewsCAST and on the CAST Web site.
- ❑ CAST prepared a backgrounder on FDA-CDC blood-serum testing methodologies.
- ❑ Twenty-six scientists from academia and professional societies participated in the CAST Biotechnology Communicators' Summit—a three-day advanced skills workshop on communicating food and agricultural biotechnology—in St. Louis, Missouri.
- ❑ CAST's biotechnology Web page (<http://www.cast-science.org/biotechnology>) continues to develop as a preeminent biotechnology information resource. The latest biotechnology-related testimonies, briefing documents, lay public and press summaries are continuously updated.

NEW LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

- ❑ CAST and the Institute for Conservation Leadership (ICL) sponsored a leadership workshop for four scientific societies and four sustainable agriculture organizations, May 5-8, 2001 in Colorado Springs, Colorado. W.K. Kellogg Foundation, USDA Cooperative State Research, Extension, and Education Service, and the Farm Foundation supported the pilot program. As a result of positive feedback from the participants, CAST and ICL have submitted a concept paper to the W.K. Kellogg Foundation for a three-year program continuing the leadership workshops.

TESTIMONIES AND BRIEFINGS

- ❑ Richard E. Stuckey, Ph.D., former CAST executive vice president, testified on behalf of CAST before the U.S. Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry at a hearing regarding the Agricultural Research, Extension and Education Title of the upcoming Farm Bill.
- ❑ CAST participated in a series of three presentations on biotechnology to visiting Cochran Fellows, sponsored by the USDA-Foreign Agricultural Service in Washington, DC.
- ❑ Dr. Teresa Gruber joined several CAST “Urban Agriculture” Task Force members for a series of meetings in Washington, DC with organizations, Congressional staff, and USDA to gather input and give exposure to the upcoming report and symposium on urban agriculture.
- ❑ Dr. Teresa Gruber conducted a presentation regarding CAST at the Congressional Science Fellows orientation at AVMA, Washington, DC.
- ❑ Dr. Bruce M. Chassy, chair of the task force for the CAST issue paper Evaluation of the U.S. Regulatory Process for Crops Developed through Biotechnology, presented a prepublication copy in the form of public comments to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) prior to the agency’s ruling on the registrations of genetically modified varieties of corn and cotton.

AAAS AND STATE DEPARTMENT COLLABORATIONS

- ❑ CAST is participating in the Court Appointed Scientific Experts (CASE) program of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.
- ❑ CAST provided nominations for the State Department Embassy Fellow Program.

WORKSHOPS AND ROUNDTABLES

- ❑ CAST has cooperated with the American Bar Association Section on Environment, Energy and Resources Committee on Agricultural Management on roundtable series on biotechnology and on confined animal feedlot operations. Dr. Richard Stuckey moderated a session during the May 2001 roundtable on the of biosafety protocol. Summaries of the roundtables are distributed with NewsCAST, our quarterly newsletter, and appear on our Web site.

PUBLICATIONS

- ❑ Vertical Coordination of Agriculture in Farming-Dependent Areas. Co-chairs: Luther G. Tweeten, The Ohio State University, Columbus, and Cornelia B. Flora, Iowa State University, Ames. This report analyzes how vertical coordination in the food chain can change rural communities that have farming-dependent economies.
- ❑ The Professional Portfolio: Beyond the Curriculum Vitae. Co-chairs: James R. Fischer, Clemson University, South Carolina, and David A. Knauff, University of Georgia, Athens. This issue paper proposes the development of a professional portfolio to communicate the value of the contributions made by individuals to their professions and the public.
- ❑ Johne’s Disease in Cattle. Co-chairs: Robert D. Linnabary, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and Gavin L. Meerdink, University of Illinois, Urbana. This issue paper discusses the diagnosis, transmission, and control of Johne’s disease, an intestinal infection of ruminants; the impact of the disease on the food animal industry; and the possible impact on human health.
- ❑ Evaluation of the U.S. Regulatory Process for Crops Developed Through Biotechnology. This issue paper describes the current U.S. governmental safety evaluation process for food and agricultural products developed using modern biotechnology and provides recommendations for both regulatory policy and research and development.

FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

- ❑ Mycotoxins: Risks and Impacts in Plant and Animal Systems. This report is designed to educate those making decisions that affect regulation and control of foods and feeds, and to illuminate the potential for mycotoxins to impact international trade of commodities and food products.
- ❑ Invasive Pest Species: Impacts on Agricultural Production, Natural Resources, and the Environment. This issue paper discusses the current status of non-native species in the United States, possible human health risks, and ecological impacts.

Respectfully submitted,

Gary J. Wingenbach

NCA-24 Meeting
Brief Summary Report

The North Central Administrative-24 Committee for Agricultural Education met in Kansas City, Missouri on February 8-9, 2001. Alan D. Barkema, Vice-President and Economist for the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, presented a program titled, "Land Grant University Role in a New Rural America."

The NCA-24 Committee is made up of leaders or their representatives of departments of Agricultural Education in the North Central Region. However, members can be from across the country as well. Representatives have been added from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Membership is subject to approval by the respective State Experiment Station Director.

The NCT-182 Committee reported on its meeting to develop a proposal to form a NCR Committee. NCR Committees are research committees formed to discuss research in an approved area. "Workforce Development" was the focus of the proposal for development of this new NCR Committee. The proposal was to be reviewed in late Spring 2001. The NCA-24 Committee recommended approval with several changes.

The NCA-24 Committee reviewed the NC-208 proposal and recommended revision. This committee is from Sociology.

The NCA-24 Committee discussed developing a web site and developed a potential format.

Henry Bahn from the USDA-CRESS led a discussion via conference call focused on grant opportunities.

The next meeting will be held on February 7 and 8, 2002 at a yet to be determined site – perhaps Washington, D.C.

Consortium of Social Science Associations

(COSSA)

AAAE is a contributing affiliate member of COSSA – the Consortium of Social Science Associations. COSSA is an advocacy organization for federal support for the social and behavioral sciences. COSSA represents the full range of social and behavior sciences.

The Executive Director is Howard J. Silver. The Update, a newsletter describing criteria issues and programs important to AAEE members and many others, is published 22 times a year. Many of the articles report on programs, projects and research opportunities, and grants that are of interest to AAEE members.

We often invite Howard Silver to speak to our NCA-24 Committee on current issues related to the interests of AAEE.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert A. Martin
