Journal of Agricultural Education Report
Jim Dyer, Chair, Editing Managing Board

The following summary of changes and updates for the Journal of Agricultural Education are presented:

- Electronic Publication – the Journal is moving to electronic submission and publication. Progress is being made, but not as quickly as we had hoped. A contract should be signed by July, 2008.
- Article Submissions – In 2007, a total of 81 articles were submitted for publication. In January, 2008, an additional 11 articles were submitted. Almost all of these required three reviewers, which created an addition to the backlog of articles currently held. When the current editor of the Journal began his duties, a backlog of three issues of the Journal were obtained from the past editor. Articles for all issues of Vol. 49 (2008) have been accepted and are awaiting print. To relieve some of the backlog, the number of articles per issue has been increased from eight to twelve.
- Issues – Printing costs remain the primary expense of the Journal, totaling almost $24,000. Likewise, an assistant to the editor was approved, which will add an additional cost to the publication. Every effort is being made to speed up the process of conversion to an electronic format for both submissions and publication.

 - 4) provide management direction on any limits or extremes that should be avoided.
- Board Action: Received a report from the Awards and Recognition Committee chaired by Joel Larsen (Minnesota). The FFA Board took action to delay the start of the CDE and Awards revision process for one year allowing the process to accommodate the following guidelines:

 3. Provide the opportunity to earn available or potential industry credentials.
 4. Assure that business and industry partners play a significant role in the development of related technical content in all initiatives.
 5. Establish and recognize levels of mastery related to all initiatives.
 6. Establish rigor based on academic content and curriculum content standards.
 7. Incorporate recommendations from major task force reports (Middle School, Hispanic Engagement, Diversity and Collegiate) into the revision process.
 8. Expand current award opportunities for students with Exploratory, Placement or Entrepreneurship SAE programs.
- Board Action: Based upon a detailed report of the historical review of how the FFA has financed its operations and projections for future needs, the Board took action to recommend to the Delegates at the 80th National Convention to increase dues from $5 to $7 effective in the 2009-2010 school year.

- Board Action: Referred to the Delegates at the 80th National FFA Convention the recommendations of the American Degree Task Force to amend the constitution changing the earnings and unpaid hour requirements for the American Degree.

Section B of Article XVII would read as follows: “An amendment to the National FFA constitution may be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the official delegates and ratification by a majority vote of the FFA state associations with official delegates at the National FFA Convention. Amendment to the bylaws shall require a majority vote of the official delegates and ratification by a majority pf the state associations with official delegates at the National FFA Convention.”
- Board Action: Adopted the following purpose for the Research Committee: “The purpose of the Research Committee is to review and make recommendations on those FFA research and evaluation priorities and initiatives that should properly come before the Board.”

The Agricultural Education Magazine Editing Board Report

This has been an eventful year for the Agricultural Education Magazine. After many conference calls and the hard work of our board members and new Editor, Billye Foster, we are happy to report that the magazine is on its way to being a healthy communication outlet once again. We held our Annual Board Meeting on January 31, 2008 at the Downtown Hilton Hotel in Indianapolis, Indiana. Board members in attendance included Jay Jackman, Tony Small, Larry Case, Dennis Duncan (for John Ricketts), Heather Dye, Harold Eckler, and Billye Foster. This report is a brief summary of the latest board meeting in Indianapolis.

New officers for the Managing/Editing Board were elected, and are as follows: President—Heather Dye; Vice President—Harold Eckler. Heather is the State Executive Director for Nevada FFA and Harold Eckler is an agriculture teacher at North Shelby High School in Missouri.

In response to issues of the past year, the board agreed that the Business Manager role should be housed by an organization instead of with one individual. NAAE agreed to provide permanent business manager duties for the Agricultural Education Magazine, and the board approved this decision. The NAAE Executive Director will serve as business manager and NAAE will provide business services until the Board decides change is needed. The Board will pay NAAE $4000 per year as an accounting fee. The Agricultural Education Magazine funds will be kept in a separate account and not co-mingled with any NAAE funds. NAAE will provide an annual business manager report.

Currently the Editor receives a $1500 stipend annually. There is no additional support for contract labor. Production of the Magazine is very time consuming and the additional burden of necessary correspondence can interfere in the current editor's regular faculty responsibilities. She requested the Board consider providing additional wages for help with correspondence AND to create a digital archive of previous issues. The board voted to provide $500 per month for contract labor to aide the Editor with correspondence with authors and creation of the digital archives.

There were four regular issues and two double-bound issues published in 2007. Fifty-seven articles were published. Six theme editor articles were published, and six "Inclusion Corner" articles were published. One full page advertisement was sold, then provided free due to publication issues. Themes for 2008 were also published.

Online availability of magazine was also discussed this year. Currently the new Business Manager (Jay Jackman) is checking on the expense and feasibility of password protection for online availability. The Editor suggested posting all past issues as archives free of charge to anyone. As such, no current year issues will be posted online until the beginning of the following year, and there is the possibility of charging subscription increase to access with password of current year on-line. It was also determined that the policy to only allow full page advertisements to universities and others would stand. No smaller advertisements will be available.

Respectfully submitted by John C. Ricketts with the assistance of Editor, Billye Foster
